

More Than a Ride, A Statement for Safer Streets

We're excited to announce that Macon's Big Bike Ride is back for its second year on Saturday, November 8, 2025! Join hundreds of Middle Georgians to celebrate a decade of advocacy with Bike Walk Macon and champion a safer, more connected community.

This is your chance to show your support for streets and greenways that welcome everyone. The ride kicks off at the newly renovated Rosa Parks Square in Downtown Macon, winds through local streets and the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail to highlight key projects, and ends with an after-party at Fall Line Brewing Co. to support the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail.

Whether you're a new rider or a seasoned cyclist, this is the perfect opportunity to advocate for safer streets and a healthier, more connected Macon. We can't wait to ride with you!

This year's ride will honor the life and legacy of Josh Rogers, a founding Bike Walk Macon board member and passionate advocate for walkable, bikeable streets. The route highlights projects he helped bring to life, including improvements Downtown, on Walnut Street, Macon Connects, and the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail. Join us as we continue building a safer, more connected Macon in his memory.

"Josh's influence and vision for a more connected Macon can be felt throughout downtown and the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail. He believed sincerely that all Maconites should have access to economic opportunity, beautiful public spaces, and a sense of community, which can all be achieved through walkable and bikeable networks." - Mike Ford, Director of Trails at NewTown Macon.
